Ordinance Voted Last Nite Launches New Improvement

Bids for the construction of Antioch's new 100,000 gallon water tank will be asked for within thirty days, according to the provisions of the ordinance passed last night at an adjourned meeting of the board of trustees.

The village receives $3,000 from the Public Works Administration as a gift from the federal government, to help finance the project which is estimated to cost $8,600, and the balance is to be paid out of the accumulated profits in the village water department.

The estimated cost covers tearing down the old tank and all labor and material on the new one, trustees said. Insofar as is possible, local labor will be used almost entirely on the project, it was stated.

The village is also awaiting a report from the government on its application for a loan of $6,000 to $10,000 for sewer improvements.

Four Cent Float Charge On Checks Not Yet In Effect

Bank Code to Be Completed Jan. 1; May Change Certain Provisions

The four cent float charge on out-of-town checks which went into temporary effect Saturday, Dec. 2, will not be continued this month according to word received by the banks from the Illinois Bankers Association this morning stating that further time had been requested for completion of the Banking Code.

The new code will go into effect January 1, with some of the provisions probably changed. As formulated at present, a float charge of four cents on each out of town check less than $100 either deposited or cashed will be charged as interest for the time the check is being sent through the clearing house. Chicago, New York, and St. Louis checks are exempt from this charge, as clearing houses are located in those cities.

A charge of five cents for out-of-town checks of $100 and upwards will be required. The new code at present calls for a flat base payment of fifty cents per month on average daily balances of less than $200, ten checks being permitted without charge, each check in excess of that number to be taxed five cents. There is no service charge on checking accounts above $200. On accounts between $200 and $300, five cents is charged for every check above ten; on accounts between $300 and $400, five cents is charged for every check above fifteen. Twenty-five checks without charge are allowed for $400-$600 accounts, and accounts over $600 are subject to an analysis to determine whether any charge should be made on unlimited checking.

A Parent-Teachers Association was organized by the Emons school district at a meeting held at the school building Tuesday evening. Mrs. Agnes Hillis was elected president; Mrs. Dortha Runyard, vice president; and Miss Doris Mason, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. W. C. Petty, president of the Antioch P. T. A., presided at the meeting and assisted the members to complete organization.

Meetings will be held on the first Tuesdays of every month.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Bickell spent Thanksgiving day in Milwaukee.

Man Found Dead In Lake Villa Cottage

Nathanias Williams, 54, Chicago, was found dead at the home of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Oak Knoll Drive, Lake Villa, Sunday. His brother, Jimmy, from Chicago had come out and found the place locked when he tried to gain admittance. He entered through a window and found the dead body of Williams.

A verdict of death from alcoholism was returned by the coroner's jury. Williams was born in Toronto, Canada. He was unmarried. About four or five weeks ago he left Chicago and took up residence in his mother's cottage at Lake Villa. His mother has been in the county hospital for the past two weeks, seriously ill.

Funeral services were held at nine o'clock yesterday morning at St. Peter's church, with burial at Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

RENTNER & HALEY BUY WHITMORE CO. CHEVROLET AGENCY

Elmer Rentner Is to Take Charge Monday; Whit- more Goes to Ottawa

The firm of Rentner and Haley, Lake Villa garage owners and Chevrolet dealers, yesterday completed a deal for the purchase of the Whitmore Chevrolet agency and garage in Antioch. Elmer Rentner, senior member of the Lake Villa firm, will be in charge of the Antioch agency, it was announced, and the business will be turned over to the new owners the first of the week.

Rentner & Haley, both formerly of Antioch, have been in business in Lake Villa for the past six years. Both are well and favorably known in this locality.

A. G. Whitmore has completed arrangements to take over the Chevrolet agency at Ottawa, Illinois, a city of 15,000 located on the Illinois waterway and a thriving factory town. He will take charge of the business he has acquired there next Monday.

Mr. Whitmore, who was formerly an executive for the General Motors company, came to Antioch three and a half years ago, taking over the business of the L. M. Wetzel, Chevrolet Sales.

Formerly the Antioch agency was distributor for almost entire western Lake county including Lake Villa and Fox Lake agencies as associate dealers, but early this fall General Motors announced its policy of making agents in all towns independent dealers. For this reason Mr. Whitmore sought a wider field for his sales activities which he has secured at Ottawa, and in the meantime, Rentner and Haley will have a very profitable business operating their two garages and handling sales of this popular make of car.

Visitor Falls Down Stairs; Breaks Leg

The guest at the Ferdinand Haase home, Harry M. Rowlett, 74, of Chicago who arrived Monday night for a surprise visit, fell down a flight of stairs about 9:30 Tuesday morning, breaking his upper leg. He was taken in an ambulance to the Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan.

He was reported to be resting well this morning, although it is expected that it will be some time before the break will be completely knit.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR PROMINENT LAKE VILLA BANKER

Rich Manzer Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack at Bankers' Meeting

Funeral services for David Rich Manzer, 56, well-known Lake Villa banker, who died suddenly at the close of a meeting of county bankers in the Grayslake Merchants' and Farmers' bank Saturday night, were held yesterday afternoon at the Lake Villa M. E. Church, with Rev. C. J. Hewitt officiating. Interment was in the family plot in the Lake Villa Angola cemetery.

Although Manzer has been troubled for some time with a heart ailment, his death came as a shock to his many friends throughout the county. He died at 10 o'clock Saturday evening, as bankers from Barrington, Grayslake, Wauconda, Antioch, Libertyville, and surrounding towns were preparing to adjourn the meeting. It was said that during the meeting he had been very active. He had been cashier of the Lake Villa Trust and Savings Bank for many years.

A bottle of medicine for heart trouble was found in his pocket. Coroner John L. Taylor, Libertyville, who inquired into the death found that it had been caused by heart failure.

Rich Manzer, second son of Lazell and Adeline Manzer, was born in Lake County April 11, 1877. He received his education in the Lake Villa school.

He was united in marriage to Miss Miez Dalrymple thirty years ago, following which he managed a farm east of Gages Lake. Later he moved to Lake Villa, where he conducted a general store in the building which has been his home for a number of years. For the past several years he has served efficiently as cashier of the Lake Villa bank. All of his time has been spent in Lake County.

Surviving him are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Gullette, Trinidad, Texas, a granddaughter, one brother, Guernsey, Lake Villa, and one sister, Avis Burke, of Libertyville. Mrs. Arles Gullette arrived from Texas for the funeral and will remain for a short time.

Prisoner Commits Suicide With Razor

G. E. Williams, Grayslake, Becomes Despondent in Jail; Ends Life

Funeral services for G. L. Williams, 38, of Gages corners, near Grayslake, who committed suicide in the county jail Monday night, were held this afternoon.

Williams was serving a six months sentence for issuing bad checks last summer and for operating a confidence game. He became despondent, it is believed, because of the failure of his wife or relatives to visit him at the jail.

He made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life early Monday by slashing his throat and wrists with a razor blade, but was prevented from completing the job by fellow prisoners. He was removed to the Lake County hospital, placed under guard, but upon gaining strength was returned to the jail at noon.

His second fatal effort was made Monday night, when he used a writing pen to rip his abdomen and a razor blade to slash his throat. He died in the hospital three hours later.

He was arrested July 11 for passing bad checks, and has been in jail since that time. He pleaded guilty to operating a confidence game Nov. 15, and was sentenced to jail for six months by Judge Ralph Dady.

Williams was rather well-known in this vicinity. His wife before her marriage was Miss Martha Protine of Hickory Corners. Surviving him are his wife and five children.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Egbert, Miss Mary Helen Davis, and Mrs. W. A. Slack, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Runyard, Waukegan; and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schroeder, Rockford, Ill.

ODD THINGS AND NEW—By Lane Bode

OVER 300 REGISTER AT C. W. A. AGENCY

Expect to Provide Work for Many by Dec. 15; H. S. Plans Work Project

Over a hundred persons have registered for employment at the local CWA office during the last week, bringing the total to date at 302, according to Frank Mastne, superintendent. It is expected that 325 persons will have registered by Saturday afternoon, the closing date.

It is through the efforts of Mastne that Antioch was fortunate enough to have an office located here, it was learned this week, as the original intention of the central committee was to locate the lake region agency further west in the county.

Although it will be impossible to provide work for all who have applied, every effort is being made to use as many as possible. It is understood that the work will be allotted on the basis of the ratio of the registration to that of the population of the area served. As Antioch has an unusually heavy registration in proportion of the population, it is expected that enough work will be approved to employ many of those registered. Antioch township is entitled to the services of 57 men for three months.

It is expected that action will soon be taken approving a high school project of employing about thirty-five men to paint the building inside and out, and improve the athletic grounds east of the building on the school property.

THERE'S STILL GOLD IN ANTIOCH; BUYER TO RETURN 4th TIME

At the call of the gold buyer, G. T. Cherington, representative of the American Scale Works, many Antioch residents have responded by turning in old gold and silver articles for cash. When Mr. Cherington returned for the third time Monday afternoon he found as many waiting to turn in their old gold as on the two previous occasions, and for this reason he has decided to return to the Waldo Hotel for the fourth time next Monday from 12 noon to 8 p. m.

SIMPSON CONFERS WITH SENATOR LEWIS ABOUT P. O. JOBS

Civil Service Plan May De- lay Changes, Congress- man Declares

Congressman James Simpson, Jr., Republican representative from the Tenth District, has had a conference with Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, regarding postoffice appointments in this district, the Congressman told the News this week.

Senator Lewis told Simpson that the Administration's policy still was toward the enactment of a law placing all postmasters under civil service, and under the new law, if passed, all postmasters whose terms are unexpired would be permitted to fill out their terms unless they should be removed for cause. Sen. Lewis did not commit himself regarding his attitude toward the proposed civil service policy as affecting postmasters, Simpson said.

"As I have received many communications from various constituents interceding in behalf of one postmaster or another throughout my district, I believe that perhaps the people of the Tenth Congressional District will be interested in knowing the situation with regard to these postmasters," Simpson said.

"Due to the interest indicated above, I recently made a trip to Washington, at which time I visited with Senator Lewis asking his attitude and policy as far as it concerned the Tenth Congressional District."

"Senator Lewis informed me that his understanding was that the Administration's policy still was toward the direction of having all postmasters put under Civil Service, and that in the future they would be filled as the result of a Civil Service examination."

"Of course, this measure has not yet been passed by Congress, and although the Senator did say that he intended to oppose the proposition, he did not commit himself as far as my constituents were concerned."

"I then visited the officials of the Post Office Department proper, who informed me that the Civil Service method was a contemplated policy and that legislation along this line would be introduced at the next session of Congress, and that the present policy of the Department indicated that they intended to permit all postmasters whose terms are unexpired to fill out their terms before replacing them, unless they should be removed for cause."

FIRE DESTROYS $900 BOAT HOUSE

Chimney Fire Burns Hole in Roof of New Antioch Funeral Home

The boat house and repair shop owned by Otto Luedtke, Long Beach Subdivision, Loon Lake, was destroyed by fire Friday morning, the loss being estimated at $900. The building was valued at $300 and the contents, including three boats of the speedboat type, were valued at $600. It is believed that the building caught fire from a grass blaze set by some hunters. As there was no phone nearby, one of the neighbors drove to Antioch to call the department, but by the time the department arrived on the scene, the fire had gained too much headway to be extinguished.

THE "FORGOTTEN MAN"

In commenting on the failure of the visit of the Western governors to the White House in putting over their program and in expressing his disappointment as to the result of his conference with President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace, Governor Langer is quoted as saying:

"It is a 100 per cent failure. I am very disappointed and disgusted. The farmer is the forgotten man. Everybody else has been here before him, the banker, the insurance man, the railroad man, and got all the money. There is nothing left for the farmer."

Without going into detail as to the soundness of the policies of this and the preceding administration in the matter of "rescuing the farmer" it might be well to reflect for a moment on the justice of the good Governor's statement quoted above. Is the farmer indeed the forgotten man?

In a recent issue, the New York Times, a newspaper noted for the accuracy of its reporting, called attention to the fact that an official survey of what the government in recent years had done for the farmer indicated that since July, 1929, more than two billion dollars have been advanced to the farmers by the various government agencies who have been seeking to help him to become prosperous. And this staggering sum, it is also pointed out, does not include the $368,000,000 expended by the Farm Board in its efforts to peg the price of wheat and cotton so that the farmer might get a higher price for his produce.

But this total, nearly two and a half billions, is not the end. Another quarter of a billion has been made available for a loan of ten cents a pound on cotton in an effort to peg the price of this product, and the extension of loans on other farm commodities is to follow so that during the next year it is believed that another billion will be loaned for this purpose. In the program for production control, the government is now extending further benefits to the farmers in the sum of another billion dollars. The government hoped to get this back through the processing tax, making the consumer pay it, but if the amounts so raised are not enough Uncle Sam will be holding the bag as usual.

The Agricultural Department is one of the most expensive branches of the government and whether we agree with its policies or not, its sole aim and intent is to help the farmer. It may be argued that in spite of all the help intended the farmer has not yet been made prosperous. Perhaps that is true. Very few of us are enjoying that very enviable state of well-being today. But the record of the past four years certainly does not bear out the assertion that the farmer is the forgotten man.

Everybody sympathizes with the farmer and his troubles and everyone hopes he will soon be restored to a state of prosperity, because it is known that no nation can be well off with nearly half of its population in the doldrums. It is barely possible that the task of bringing prosperity to agriculture is one which cannot be accomplished in its entirety by legislation or government fiat. It is faintly possible, too, even if the good governors had arrived at Washington before somebody else "got all the money" and had returned to their homes with a trunkload of assistance, that the farmer might not have been rescued.

No matter how unfortunate he may be, the American farmer is not a forgotten man, if for no other reason than that the professional agitators would not let us forget him even if we wanted to, which we do not. Just at present if we may be permitted to offer our humble opinion, it is the poor taxpayer who is the forgotten citizen in America.

MOE ROSENBERG

Moe Rosenberg, Chicago Democratic leader, is scheduled to go to trial this week on charges of evading federal income taxes, the same offense for which Boss Pat Nash and Mayor "Sanitary" Ed Kelly of Chicago were permitted to settle with the government. In this connection the Chicago Evening American says: "So great was the interest in saving Moe Rosenberg from trial that even Governor Horner personally appealed to President Roosevelt on Rosenberg's behalf. When the President refused to intercede for Rosenberg, Mayor Kelly and Patrick A. Nash, Democratic national committeeman, personally appealed to Postmaster General James A. Farley to stop the proceedings."

Information that State Senator Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton Republican, is being boosted for the Republican nomination for governor in 1936 was revealed by Howard M. Fuller, political writer of the Peoria Star. Fuller has been writing a series of political prospectus stories, in which he has pointed to John G. Oglesby of Elkhart, Sen. Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, C. Wayland Brooks, Chicago attorney, Paul Kuhn of Batavia, and William J. Stratton of Ingleside as possible candidates for the Republican nomination.

AMUSING PLAY IS PRESENTED AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

A one-act comedy, "A Princess Comes," by Grace Michael, was presented at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club in the Moose Hall Monday afternoon by seven members of the club. The play was directed by Mrs. M. K. Phillips. The characters were:

Mrs. Barry, inn proprietress.....
Mrs. William Rosing
Maggie McFlitty, the waitress.....
Mrs. G. A. Whitmore
Hiram Jones.....Mrs. W. H. Osmond
Mrs. Hiram Jones.....Mrs. H. B. Gaston
Mysterious Blond.....Mrs. Ed Vos
Bob Gray, a student.....

Mrs. William Anderson
Unassuming Person.....Mrs. Rex Simms
The scene: Tearoom of the Inn. Mrs. Rosing, as the proprietress, was a capable solid person, flustered now by the expected arrival of a princess. Mrs. Whitmore played the part of the pert, talkative waitress with ease. Mrs. Osmond, as Hiram Jones, the old bewhiskered Vermont who didn't have much style, but he could pay for what he ordered, capered about in true Yankee fashion and called forth much applause from the audience. Mrs. Gaston as Mrs. Hiram Jones was a typical curious old hombody as she determined to get a good look at the princess, despite the frantic efforts of the proprietress to prevent her.

Mrs. Anderson, as the student, strolled around with collegiate nonchalance, teasing the maid, wheeling, and managing to be on hand when things began to happen. Mrs. Ed Vos, the mysterious stranger, thought to be the princess, turned out to be a movie star but took advantage of her opportunity to acquaint herself with the "common" folks. The climax came when Mrs. Simms, an unassuming person, entered the room and was coolly received. Mrs. Jones whisking out of the room, before the stranger explained that she was the princess.

All the characters were particularly well-suited to their roles. Members on the committee in charge were Mrs. Ernest Brook, Mrs. P. E. Chinn and Mrs. Leonard Case.

The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party, which will be held at the home of Mrs. H. H. Grimm.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 3.

The Golden Text was, "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King" (Isaiah 43:15). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee" (Nehemiah 9:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle" (p. 275).

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH "A Friendly Church"

Church School 9:45.

Morning Worship Service: 11:00.

The theme for the service will be: "The Imperishable Word." "I am the Bible. More than thirty million copies of me are published annually. I am proclaimed from pulpit and printed page and translated into hundreds of languages. I have influenced medicine, law, language, literature, and art. Yet I am unknown.—I am consulted only occasionally, and often, then, only on trivial matters—most of the time I stay unopened on the shelf—or library table. Although I am recognized as the greatest book in the world, I am woefully neglected, even by many church members." (Reprint from Duplex—Richmond, Virginia.)

Next Sunday will be Bible Sunday. Bring a special offering for this purpose, please.

Next Thursday evening: Remember: the great moving picture, "Fabiola," a story of the early church, will be presented in the Church. No admission will be charged but an offering will be taken to defray the expenses of the evening, Dec. 14. A picture of vital interest to all, young and old.

H. S. TO PLAY WARREN FRIDAY

Heavies Lose to Wauconda 21-17 in Closely-Contested Game

Practice this week in preparation for the first conference game of the season with Warren tomorrow night, Dec. 8, has made the A. T. H. S. Squat cagers "rarin' to go."

Warren has been a traditional rival for many years, because of numerous closely fought contests, in athletics and agricultural meets. Records show that the two schools have maintained basketball teams of equally strong caliber, Antioch taking the honors one year and Warren the next.

Warren defeated the Antioch basketball team twice in 1932.

Sparrows, Rats, And Mice Are Not Welcome In Antioch

The Antioch Chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their annual pest extermination contest during the month of November. Each rat counted 10 points, each sparrow 3 points, and each mouse 2 points. 2116 sparrows, 392 mice, and 115 rats were killed, making a total of 8282 points.

The club was divided into two teams, the "Sparrow Hawks," under Paul Nielsen, and the "Rat Terriers," under Howard Wells. The "Sparrow Hawks" were the winning team.

Ten cash prizes were offered for the ten highest scores. The winners of these prizes were: Paul Nielsen, with 393 sparrows, 3 mice, and 1 rat, first place; Russell Fields, second, with 288 sparrows, 42 mice, and 6 rats; George Anderson, third, with 150 sparrows, 50 mice, and 11 rats; Alfred Anderson, fourth, with 150 sparrows, 50 mice and 10 rats; Howard Bonner, fifth, with 141 sparrows, 18 mice, and 6 rats; Bernard Reuter, sixth, with 154 sparrows, 3 mice, 1 rat; James Herman, seventh, with 91 sparrows, 31 mice, and 12 rats; Otto Hanke, eighth, with 54 sparrows, 38 mice, and 15 rats; Howard Wells, ninth, with 104 sparrows;

Grandma's Rocker

It's such a nice sunny day, I do believe it would be warm enough to sit out in the sun room. Come along, Grandma wants to clean the sun room anyway. Why, look here, the poor plant needs water. Guess I'll just trot out to the kitchen and get it a drink.

Now, what do you think of that? The flower pot has worn right through the pan, and left a clean hole in the stand. That's a look, isn't it? When Grandma has her best chair in here, an ugly ring like that, under it, the others are that way, too. No, I don't know, I read somewhere that an old inner tube in the yard will prevent flower pots and vases from hurting the lawn. I'll try it. That's all. The next time Grandma Henry gets so complacent about there being a chair to do, I'll get him to work on that.

No, I won't either. He'll just say, "I'm an old man, mother-in-law, even if he doesn't say so. I'll just have you, Harry, cut some out for a little while, just for his mother. He's not doing it, he'd probably have Henry helping him. He, he?"

Well, look across the street. Furry. Looks like Hasletton's are having their house all decked out for Christmas. Funny I never noticed what was going on over there—and it's pretty near finished, too. I ought to come in here often, I guess. New shutters and right shiny ones, too. You never catch them Hasletton's behind the times. Makes it look different, all right, more'n you'd think, a heap better, too. Oh, I see now—there's a new window—that must let a lot more light into that room, even if it is just a little window.

What're they doin' to the stoop, kitty? Tearin' it down. Well, it always did stick out too far for the size of the house. Come to think of it, I did hear Gladys and Henry saying as how the folks across the street was having an Old English entrance built, but I was so near asleep guess it hardly sunk in.

I'm right sleepy now, kitty, what about you? You know, I've been sleepy ever since that big Thanksgiving dinner we had over to John's.

CHANGING STATUS OF WOMEN IS THEME OF DR. HEWITT'S TALK

"Women — and Their Changing Status" was the subject of Dr. C. J. Hewitt's address at the open meeting of the Antioch Business Women's Club held at the grade school Monday evening.

He quoted examples from the Bible to show that women have risen greatly in the estimation of the world since Biblical days, and have become famous in their own right, giving as examples, Frances Willard, and Addams, and Florence Nightingale, and reviewing their accomplishments.

An business and professional women members of the Club could raise the standard of womanhood, Dr. Hewitt said, by fighting against unfair competition with men in business by demanding equal wages, and raising the moral, cultural, and intellectual standard of women by reason of superior education.

Music was provided by Miss Olive and Mrs. Fern Lux, who sang duets, accompanied by Mrs. Ar. Maplethorpe. They sang, "I'm Through" and "In the Garden of Tomorrow."

BANANAS COOKED MAY BE USED IN VARIETY OF WAYS

Serve Baked, Broiled, or Pickled with Meats; Fine in Salads

Bananas have long been used for lunching purposes or for salads "in the raw." Now housewives are awakening to their value as a cooked dish as well.

Bananas used to be considered hard to digest; however, although they are heavy, there is nothing indigestible about a nice ripe banana. They do provide plenty of calories, important minerals, and vitamins.

Bananas with Meat

Serve broiled bananas with meat. When the steak is almost ready to serve, peel ripe bananas, sprinkle them with lemon juice and roll in flour. Brown in a small amount of hot fat, turning them carefully.

Or, broil a thick slice of ham in a broiler until brown on one side. Turn and spread the reverse side with a layer of brown sugar, continuing the broiling at a lower heat until the sugar melts and the meat is tender. During the last few minutes, place peeled bananas, which have been treated as above in the broiler to cook until soft and brown.

Fine for Breakfast

Batter for pancakes, waffles, or muffins is improved by the addition of a cup of sliced bananas. The fruit also makes a good breakfast dish baked, or broiled with bacon, or served raw.

A Salad Winner

Have you ever used sliced bananas as with chopped cabbage for a salad? Of course, you've often used them halved lengthwise with other fruits, but try this cabbage combination. They counteract the sharp cabbage, and the cabbage lends tartness to the bananas.

1/2 large head of cabbage, chopped
2 bananas sliced
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons salad dressing
Mix together a short time before serving.

Other Uses

Place sliced bananas between the layers of just cooled gingerbread and on top. Frost over with whipped cream, and place a few more slices on top.

For spicing: Boil 1/2 cup vinegar, an equal amount of sugar, 24 whole cloves, and one small stick of cinnamon until the sugar is dissolved and a syrup is formed. Peel three bananas, cut into halves, drop into the hot syrup and boil hard for two minutes. Remove from the burner and cool the bananas in the syrup. Stick two cloves into each banana half and serve as a meat accompaniment.

ADVISE EARLY SELECTION OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS

The Choosing of Thoughtful Individual Gifts Must Begin Before Rush

Has that chant—only so many days until Christmas—begun to worry you yet? You've heard its corollary year after year, too—a little forethought saves last minute bustling.

Still, there isn't much use preaching. A few suggestions for gifts may be more to the point.

Now is the time to have gifts monogrammed before it is too late to have your offer filled. Few gifts are more suggestive of personal thoughtfulness than monogrammed handkerchiefs, linens, scarves, leather goods, or stationery.

Give Individual Stationery

Speaking of stationery, the new line of stationery is always gratefully received by school girls, particularly individual monogrammed paper. Shadow, prints, parchment, or plain paper are all popular. Portfolios in leather, filled with stationery are very attractive and handy on the school girl's desk. Then there are the lap pads—large leather boxes filled with stationery, with a blotter on the opposite side of the cover. Name-grams in a lettering to harmonize with the paper, is an appreciated gift.

Even though the Fair is closed, we still have fond memories of Tony Sarg's little marionettes. Attractive gifts would be cream colored linen buffet sets with these marionettes printed on them. The dollies come in several sizes and each piece is printed with a different design of amusing figures in bright colors. They are being used also for decorative wall hangings.

Mugs and Cases

Now that the eighteenth amendment has been repealed, hosts will want the newest beer accessories available. Spun aluminum beer mugs of a modern design would be most acceptable to any man.

Women, you know, never seem to have enough room to pack things for a week-end trip. That's a tip for a gift: a moire bottle case. They are featured in all pastel shades, contain four bottles, and can be opened conveniently in zipper fashion. There's also a plaid model large enough to hold five bottles.

Use Shelves For Plants And Overflow

The Real Living Room Is a Place of Convenience to Articles

After one has been at housekeeping for a number of years the articles which require a resting place apparently have followed a good old world custom and multiplied themselves to the point where you simply don't know where to put them neatly.

The overflowing shelves may consist of a miscellaneous conglomeration of articles which by rights ought to be tucked away in the attic or they may be really necessary in everyday use.

Shelves may be the answer to your problem. Of course, you don't want every room bedecked with rails and shelves, but there is usually at least one comfortable homey room such as the sun room which readily supports a variety of shelves.

These shelves may be placed regularly or irregularly about the room. They may be wide enough to hold potted plants, or they may be narrow bands on which to keep pin-cushions, scissors, paste, and the like.

It would be fun to take just one room and remodel it by means of shelves, or brackets, into a real work nest—or rustic bower, with a variety of potted plants, or fresh flowers, or clever baskets.

Brackets and flower stands are all very well for individual plants, but a better massed effect can be gained by use of shelves.

Anyway, it's an idea. They may not be risky shelves—just made of lumber salvaged from the basement and trimmed to suit your fancy.

A reorganization of the American Legion Post at Wilmot was effected Tuesday night, the post now being entitled the Fred Semrau post, No. 361. Officers elected were as follows: Commander, Carl Gauger; vice commander, Roland Hegeman; adjutant, Herbert Sarbeck; finance officer, John Mutz; sergeants-at-arms, Otto Stenzil and Henry Letting.
